

Tim Gard, CSP: Introduction Leadership – The Tao of Humor

Our speaker today (tonight) is someone who can find humor in almost anything – even in (state your industry here). Over a decade ago, Tim discovered a tremendous calling from his peers to share unique way of looking at life, so that they too could learn to harness laughter for the purposes of improving their professional and personal lives.

Although most everyone will agree how very powerful and positive humor can be at work, they will also likely agree that misused humor can be just a powerful in a damaging way.

Today we will explore and discover how humor can be your most useful tool in dealing with the challenges of an ever changing workplace. Learn the difference between what's appropriate and what isn't, and how to always make 'the farce' be with you.

This class draws on Tim's extensive County, State and Federal work experience and provides valuable insights that your improve your overall effectiveness as a leader.

Please join me in giving Tim Gard a warm welcome.....
